The Republican Nominee for ths State Senate.

GEORGE G. STEKETEE THE MAN

He Has Been a Citizen of Grand Rapids for Forty Years and Has Helped in the Building of Her Prosperity.

It is a gratifying spectacle to men of for consideration was enacted. In all parties to be able to read in the list these times Mr. Steketee was recogof party nominees the names of men of unimpeachable integrity and wide knowledge of affairs. It is especially gratifying to find there named, in connection with legislative offices, men of prominent moral and mental fitness. It is a source of profound satisfaction some majority over E. B. Dike-It is a source of profound satisfaction to find upon the republican ticket the name of George G. Steketee as nominee for senator for this district. In making this nomination the republicans have honored themselves by honoring Mr. Steketee. A wiser choice could not have been made by any party. He possesses the wide experience requisite to fulfill the office to which he aspires, is a man of emminent mental and moral equipment for the position and is a tried and trustworthy custodian of

He Is One of the Ploneers. Mr. George G. Steketee took up his residence in this city in 1849. He was then but 14 years of age, and came to this country from Holland. The young municipality to which he at-tached his fortunes then numbered less than 2,000 inhabitants. From that distant day until the present Mr. Steketee has been constantly identified with the progress of the Valley City, and has been part of that irresistible entity which has builded it.

From the first he has been of that indomitable disposition which holds failure to be impossible, and which turns all incidents and circumstances to bis personal advantage. Realizing that his future was in his own hands, and that he alone was to be the architect of his own fortune, young Steketee turned his face resolutely to the future and industriously set about building for himself an honorable career.

Young Steketer Learns a Trade,

In 1850 Mr. Steketee engaged in the merchant tailoring trade, remaining in that business until 1860. From that time he engaged in general mercantile pursuits until 1863, when he went to Holland, Michigan. During the next foor years he resided and did business in the Leather City, but maintained, with unabated vigor, his allegiance to Grand Rapids.

Founded the Drug Business, In 1869 Mr. Steketee founded the drug business in this city, which has since grown to be an institution of pations reputation and which has taken the name of its founder into every city and town in America. For twentythree years the location at 89 Monroe street was occupied by Mr. Steketee as the city dispensary and pharmacy connected with his general drug trade. In the succeeding years the growth of this business necessitated the es-tablishment of more commodious quarters and of the employment of improved facilities for the compounding of medicines. Bis Proprietory Preparations,

About 1875 Mr. Steketee began the preparation of his now famous family remedies. He was first im-pelled in that direction by a demand hen springing up all over the country for standard remedies for the prevalent allments. His profound study of his profession and intimate knowledge of the kindred profession of medical paring these remedies that few men Reing a skilled pharmacist he quickly surrounded himself with tracting medicinal preparations from their natural elements, and for compounding standard formulas. In this field of activity Mr. Steketee proved himself to possess the elements of knowledge and business asgacity requisite to attain pre-eminence in the business, and he rose by rapid strides

The Nicest and Most Natural

The finest, purest, strongest and best flavors for cakes, puddings, pastry, etc., are Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts. In this age of adulteration, consumers owe it to themselves to patronize manufacturers who have an established reputation for placing in the market pure articles. Dr. Price's Extracts for purity have the endorsements of the leading chemists of this country. They are used by the United States Government. The best hotels and restaurants use them. The largest and finest grocers sell them, and they are destined to take the place of all other Flavoring Extracts.

Mr. Steketee has been a republican since the foundations of the party were first laid "beneath the oaks at Jackson." He cast his first vote for John C. Fremont, and has continued his allegience to the party ever since. In 1860 and 1861 he was tax collector for his ward, and in the latter year he was elected alderman. For six years thereafter, with the exception of a single year, he served continuously in the city council. During this time some of the most important legislation which ever devolved upon that body nized as being one of the foremost members of the council, and his name was prominently connected with every important measure passed. Elected Mayor.

man, democratic pominee, and Henry S. Smith, greenback candidate. His administration of city affairs was characterized by prudence and sagac-ity. The course which he pursued was that of a liberal and progressive offi-cial, and it won for him the undivided admiration and indorsement of the best men of all parties and shades of political belief. Mr. Steketee retired from the office of mayor of the city. taking with him the gratitude of all who held the best interests of the city at heart. In the Blaine campaign of

In social life Mr. Steketee enjoys the same high position which he has al-ways held in political and business life. He is a member of De Molai commandery No. 5, of this city, and is loved and esteemed by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. He is, and has been for twenty-five years, a mem-ber of Fountain Street Saptist church. In private life he is a genial and charitable man. He is a republican through the force of honest conviction, allowing the same liberty of opinion to others which he claims for himself. He is an approachable man for all classes, a self-made man and one who has the best interests of the masses at

He is connected with many of our solid commercial institutions and is a heavy real estate owner. He is a heavy tax-payer and a man who, if elected as sen-ator of this district, will subserve his personal interests by serving the best interests of this district. As a member of the state senate Mr. Steketee could exert a powerful influence for purity of legislation, and his dignity and per-sonal integrity would add material strength to the solution of public ques-

His nomination reflects the highest credit upon his party. His election will reflect like credit upon the sixteenth senatorial district of Michigan.

Young Republicans Attention!

At 7:30 p. m. next Monday evening, Oct. 10 there will be a meeting of the Young Men's McKinley club at the Lincoln club rooms, 66 Pearl street, (Over American express office.) This is an organization of republicans from about 16 to 21 years of age. Any respectable person (I. E. any republican) of about these ages and over five feet three inches in height is eligible to membership. This latter restriction is to make the club have a better appearance on parades.

A cordial invitation is extended to all such to join us in forming a strong club which will help to show the belief of the coming voters in the grand republican principles.

HENRY HEALD, President.

EUGENE B. PALMER, Secretary.

JOHN IS TOO ANXIOUS. Eprion HERRED-John McQueen, the candidate for sheriff on the democratic ticket is so anxious to be elected

HIS LIFE IS CLEAN to his present enviable reputation and competency.

His Political Career,

Mr. Steketon has been a republican taket, but failed. Then he went in the dem-cratic convention, and there being no other candidate received the nomination. But John was not satisfied with the result, so be went and induced Mr. Young, the candidate for sheriff on the peoples' party tacket, to decline to run. And he would fix it with the boys and also be placed on that ticket, (the consideration for this transaction is not known), and then he would be all right. But John began to reflect on the past; how he dis-missed two Hollanders from his force without cause, and forced others to reeign because they would not be robbed of their hard earnings, and he thought it might react on him. He most likely heard that there are 23,000 Hollanders in Kent county, and although the democratic party don't care for them, if they did they would have given them a fair representation on their ticket, as the republican party did, which party will of course get the Holland vote at the next election. A HOLLANDER. MR. FEE'S WORK.

the Wily Truant.

When the charitably inclined in this city wish to know where their bounty should be bestowed they consult Frank B. Fee, truant officer. There are lew needy or deserving persons, especially children, in the city who have not seen 1884 Mr. Steketee was elected from this district as a presidential elector, and was chosen by the electoral college as board of education, realizing Mr. Fee's messenger to bear the vote of that | work in this direction, has set apart body to Washington. In his capacity as truant offi-ces Mr. Fee has had occasion to learn the family surroundings of many poor boys and girls, and he is able to tell better than any one else in the city where the greatest sufferers may be found. He is the first heutenant of the women managers of the children's home, and the call upon him frequent-

There is not a trush in the city bu knows Mr. Fee. They see in him something besides a graff officer of the law whose duty is simply to cut short their stolen holdays. two pupils in the truant school. It is the largest number ever before placed there the first month of the school year. The extension of the city limits has made his work more arduous, as he has nearly double the territory to cover and there are a larger percentage of truants in the added territory than there was within the old city limits. If he has more truants to look after he also has many more deserving poor to hunt out and offer relief.

Whenever a case of destitution is re-ported to police headquarters Mr. Fee is called upon to investigate the case. When persons have anything they wish delivered to poor persons and are not acquainted with anybody who is deserving, it is placed in the hands of Mr. Fee and is sure to find deserving hands before he lets it go. The Children's home has about thirty little ones within its folds and a number ation of Mr. Fee. The repairs and re-modeling of the building given for the home will cost the society $5,000, which must be raised by donations and sub-scriptions, but the object of the home is so good that it is thought few persons in the city will refuse to give something toward clearing away the Free Lecture.

Mrs. Martha Strickland has been invited to give her lecture, introducing the study of parliamentary law, before the L. L. C. and St. Cecilia on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the ladies' club house. Mrs. Strickland has several classes aiready formed, but to induce her to stay in Grand Rapids for some time it is necessary that a greater number take an interest in the work and join the classes. The ladies of Grand Rapids have two very prosperous clubs to their credit, and their parliamentary work has been fairly creditable. An opportunity to learn of such a teacher as Mrs. Strickland has never before been offered them, and it is only in line with their prev ious efforts that an active interest shall be taken in this matter. The lecture at the ladies' club house Wednesday is free, and no doubt a large number will be in attendance.
